CHESTERFIELD COUNTY PUBLIC LIBRARY WINS FOUR NATIONAL ACHIEVEMENT AWARDS

CHESTERFIELD COUNTY, VA —The National Association of Counties (NACo) has awarded Chesterfield County Public Library with four 2018 Achievement Awards for innovative programs. The awards represent the library's priority in working with residents to develop innovative, transformative programs.

The programs are:

- Breaking Barriers Behind Bars, a program designed to establish relationships with teens in the Chesterfield Juvenile Detention Home, through book discussions and learning plans.
- My First School Bus, a program involving a partnership with Chesterfield County Police and Chesterfield County Public Schools that introduces rising kindergartners to school bus safety.
- Teen Financial Literacy, a grant-funded program that provided workshops and exhibits to teach teens and tweens about financial management.
- CCPL Toy Collection, an assortment of age- and educationally-appropriate toys for check-out.

NACo unites more than 3,000 county governments to work collectively to build and support counties. CCPL will be recognized at NACo's 2018 Annual Conference and Exposition, July 13-16 in Davidson County, Tennessee.
